

I am amazed at the recklessness of the FCC lifting the ban on cross-ownership of media. The whole idea of a single voice (Murdock comes to mind) drowning out all others is completely UNAmerican. Please do not lift this ban. Isn't it bad enough that you GAVE away digital band-width to large corporations. The amount of money lost to the people in that one obscene. Corporations by definition work for their OWN interest, not necessarily those of the people.
